CONTENTS

- Editorial
- Classifying the autistic spectrum: can it be done? Effectiveness of current, future and alternative methods of classifying the autistic spectrum
  Joshua Muggleton and Amanda Seed
- What are the criteria for success in a support group for parents of children on the autism spectrum? Carol Peters
- Effective early intervention for young children on the autism spectrum: the Thomas Outreach Programme (TOP) Kate Ripley, Cara Osborne and Thomas Sergeant
- Can adults on the autism spectrum be affected positively by the use of intensive interaction in supported living services? Catherine Fraser
- Mutual attraction? How do we identify and attract the right people to work in the field of autism? Jacqui Ashton Smith
- Helping your child with PDA to play: eight strategies for supporting a child with Pathological Demand Avoidance Syndrome at home
  Josephine Carlile
- Community mental health professionals' knowledge and understanding of Asperger Syndrome and the needs of this client group
  Jason Crabtree, Andre Strydom and David Kirkpatrick
- Mainstreaming autism: making it work
  Gareth D Morewood, Neil Humphrey and Wendy Symes
- The outcomes from attendance on selected mainstream further education courses, for a group of learners at a specialist college for young people on the autism spectrum
  Michael G Priestley
- What helps? Perceptions of pupils with autism spectrum disorders about metacognitive strategies
  Keely Harper-Hill and Stephanie Lord
- Book reviews
- Accredited courses
- Notes for contributors

GAP
GOOD AUTISM PRACTICE

ISSN 1466-2973